Dear Reggie Jackson,

I hope this letter finds you safe, healthy and happy during these unprecedented times. I would like to take a moment and re-introduce myself. I am Colie (Sonny) Dooley, you were a young baseball player when we met in 1967-1968 in Mt. Pleasant, NC. We did a lot of fishing together at that time. Baseball was not necessarily "my thing", my passions were my sales job and fishing. Around 3-4 years later I was watching the World Series game and there you were. I pointed you out to my wife and told her, "that's Reggie, who fished with me".

Last year, we were at a benefit dinner for Strawberry. My daughter, Alicia arranged for us to talk to him. I asked him if he had seen you recently and shared with him how I met you, fishing in my yellow boat. Strawberry said you were doing great and had become quite the fisherman.

My career led me into real estate, as a builder and realtor. I came out of retirement last year to revive an old project called Green Hybrid Habitats (GHH). GHH homes are affordable, high performing, low energy, green, sustainable, hurricane and flood proof homes. I am currently looking for people who may be interested in assisting with this project. I am enclosing the letter we wrote Mackenzie Bezos and former CEO of Lowe's, Bob Tillman so you can see the direction we are looking to go. You can learn more by visiting our website www.greenhybridhabitats.com.

I am currently living in Wilmington, NC. There is a need for an afterschool youth center because many of our youth do not have anywhere to go and safely hang out. I would love to see a Reggie Jackson Youth Center erected near our downtown area. This youth center would also serve as a shelter for the community when the next hurricane comes. I would sincerely be honored to be able to work with you as an investor, spokesperson or both.

Sincerely,

Colie Dooley, CEO
