Dear Bob,

A lot of water has flowed through communities by hurricanes and flood disasters since I sent you a letter about a year and a half ago. I invite you to view my new website www.greenhybridhabitats.com. You will see what my God given passion is. It's not about money, it's about giving back to God and communities that have been hit by disasters. Specifically, in poor rural communities in the form of revitalizing communities with employment and affordable housing.

I am enclosing a letter we sent to Mackenzie Bezos. Through God's help I am looking to build a youth center in Wilmington, NC. This youth center would provide a place for youth to go after-school and hang out in a constructive environment. The youth center would also double as a temporary shelter for future disasters.

Bob, I commend you and admire your legacy for leading Lowes to a giant enterprise. I ask you to think about leaving a legacy of a Tillman Youth Center in Wilmington, NC. The after-school center is greatly needed in this city as the youth have no where to hang out. The legacy could be a permanent solution for our city. It would be a personal honor to work with you in this endeavor. It would be great to have you on board as you look at the potential GHH vision, reality for a hurricane proof-flood proof home. We recently partnered with Jill Hope, a broker with Sea Coast Coldwell Banker. Sea Coast Coldwell banker has 21 offices throughout North Carolina and South Carolina.

We have a huge vision and it would wonderful to have you a part of these visions.

Sincerely,

Colie Dooley
